Allies Meet To Sign Pact

Will Give W. Germans Sovereignty

Strasbourg, France, May 23 (AP)—Ministers of six west European nations completed tonight the terms of a treaty to merge their armies in a unified defense force that will answer orders of the North Atlantic alliance. They decided the pact should run for 50 years.

French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman announced the treaty will be signed in Paris Tuesday.

A companion document to the West German peace contract to be signed in Bonn Monday, the treaty is to line up more than a million troops of West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

If and when the treaty is finally approved, domestic armies of the participating nations will disappear. A concentrated European army, in a single uniform except for headgear, will replace them. Europe's military schools will become international academies. From corporate level up, the command groups will be chosen from all the countries. Each nation will be assigned a proportionate share of troops to raise, guns to supply, planes to build.

Powerhouse Of Treaty
The powerhouse of the treaty is a commission of nine men, to direct training, arming and deployment of the troops. It is pledged in advance to standardize arms in harmony with NATO.

Schuman told newsmen of the agreement at the end of a four-hour session here in the Maison de l'Europe with other foreign ministers and diplomats.

The six ministers settled the final difference over the document establishing a European Defense Community when they fixed the pact's duration at 50 years. Dutch Foreign Minister Dirk U. Stikker had wanted it limited to the duration of the NATO treaty, which has 17 years to run.

The compromise, Schuman told a news conference, was that if the NATO treaty goes out of existence any time in the 50-year period the six European army partners will re-examine their pact.

Schuman's interpretation was that NATO will continue unless some member denounces it at the end of the remaining 17 years.

Three Points To Settle

Facing the foreign ministers in their talks with their own high commissioners and with Adenauer, who is also West Germany's foreign minister—are these last three points to be settled before the signing:

1. When the peace contract is to become effective.
 2. The name it is to be given.
 3. The status of French and Belgian troops in Germany in the interval before they are joined to the six-nation European army with those of West Germany, Italy, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.
- After the signing in Bonn's cramped little Senate chamber overlooking the Rhine, the peace contract faces its biggest hurdle—ratification in the toughly parliamentary of the signatory nations. Similar trials are in store for the EDC treaty.

Here in Bonn, Adenauer's Christian Democrats and their Allies hold only a slim majority over the opposition of the Socialists, who on this issue will be backed by the Communists.

Colliers Editor Resigns; No Reason Given

New York, May 23 (AP)—Louis Ruppel, editor of Collier's magazine for the past three years, has resigned, the Crowell-Collier Publishing company announced today.

The brief announcement gave no reasons for the move. A spokesman for the company denied that there was any "shakeup" of personnel involved in the change but added that Ruppel had no immediate plans for the future.

Ruppel himself was unavailable for comment.

The announcement was made by Crowell-Collier President Clarence E. Stouch, who said that Edward Anthony, publisher of the magazine, would "act for the time being" as both editor and publisher.

A native of New York, Ruppel is 48 years old. A former managing editor of the Chicago Times, he was executive editor of the Chicago Herald-American in 1945 when he resigned to join Crowell-Collier.

He also served as publicity director of the Columbia Broadcasting System from 1939 to 1941.

Foreign Aid Bill Cut By House

Washington, May 23 (AP)—The House tonight passed a $6,162,600,000 foreign aid bill after cutting $1,737,400,000 from President Truman's requests. The measure now goes to the Senate.

The roll call vote was 245 to 110. Temporarily dominated by Republicans, the House sliced $726,500,000 from the floor in addition to $1,010,900,000 which the foreign aid committee previously trimmed from the president's $7,900,000,000 program.

Backers of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) led the forces demanding the cuts. They overrode more moderate reductions proposed by supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Democratic absenteeism gave the Republicans control during crucial voting today and yesterday.

The cuts reduced military aid to Europe by $229,000,000 and trimmed a total of $908,400,000 from economic aid for Europe and the Far East.

The explosive Middle East and Latin America were left untouched. The administration was unable to salvage the original bill, despite a warning from Speaker Rayburn that the United States had lost its superiority to Russia and must act to strengthen its allies.

At the last minute the House also adopted an amendment requiring the allies to gear their resources for defense and to take further steps toward European unification to get continued aid.

Supporters of the cuts argued that the American economy could not stand indefinite spending abroad and that proposed economic aid, particularly, was swollen.

Administration leaders contended that the one billion slash made by the committee was the most that could be safely trimmed from the measure.

The Senate has begun considering its own $6,900,000,000 foreign aid program with proposals for further reductions ranging from 500 million to one billion.

Voting for the bill on final passage were 167 Democrats and 78 Republicans. Against it were 20 Democrats and 90 Republicans.

W. John Kenney, deputy director for mutual security, said in a statement today that the 797 million cut from European economic aid will "mean the loss of European divisions, aircraft squadrons and naval units which we cannot afford to lose."

State police headquarters said it had been advised that winds of 80 miles an hour had hit Ashdown, DeQueen, Dierks and Horatio. Thousands of dollars of damage was reported in the four southwest Arkansas towns but no one was reported injured.

A freakish storm hit the Magnolia business section. Orville Hancock of the Magnolia Banner News said "two clouds met over the city and wind swept down," unroofing a wood plant and caving in a wall of the same building. An unidentified Negro worker was reported to have suffered a broken arm.

Dierks was the first Arkansas area hit by the March 21 tornadoes, which killed 116 persons in this state alone. From Dierks came a report that a small tornado struck the nearby Athens community about three years ago that he had never been a member of the Communist party.

Judge James R. Kirkland immediately issued a warrant for Weinberg's arrest and fixed bond at $10,000.

Less than three hours later, Weinberg was taken into custody by the U. S. marshal at Minneapolis. He expressed surprise at the indictment, but refused to discuss the charges against him.

The 35-year-old scientist, who is generally credited with having helped develop the A-bomb, was ordered to appear in U. S. district court here on June 2.

If convicted, Weinberg would face a maximum sentence of 30 years in prison. Each count in the triple indictment carries a possible maximum penalty of 10 years.

The indictment came nearly 30 months after the House un-American activities committee, which had been on Weinberg's trail for years, recommended that the justice department prosecute him for perjury.

The House committee finally identified Weinberg on Sept. 30, 1949, as the shadowy figure its reports had long mentioned only as "Scientist X" and accused him of giving atomic secrets to Communist Steve Nelson. The committee has termed Nelson a Communist espionage agent.

At the time, Weinberg bitterly denied the accusation, terming it a case of "mistaken identity," and swore that he had always been loyal to the United States.

He was then an assistant professor of physics at the University of Minnesota, but was suspended by the university president, J. L. Morrill, on May 16, 1951, on charges that he refused to cooperate with the federal grand jury here.

A month later, the university board of regents voted to relieve Weinberg of all duties but to keep him under payroll for one year to comply with job tenure regulations. The year expires June 15.

LOSERS BANK: COLLAR TOO TIGHT

London, May 23 (AP)—A court martial stripped Harold Reeves of his sergeant's rank in the Scots Guards today because he failed to show up for guard duty May 8.

Reeves told the court he couldn't stand duty that day because the collar of his new tunic was too tight.

ADMINISTRATORS LAST RITES TO SON—Rescuers at Portland, Ore., stand with bowed heads as the late son, Arthur Jessett, 20, fell into a 90-foot deep crevasse while descending Mt. Saint Helens with three friends. The body was recovered from the crevasse almost 8,000 feet up the mountain.

US Denies We Control Iranian Army

Washington, May 23 (AP)—The United States flatly denied today a Soviet charge that American military missions control the armed forces of Iran. It also accused Russia of meddling in Iran's internal affairs.

The statement was made by state department Press Officer Michael J. McDermott, in quick response to a Moscow protest to Iran against its acceptance of American aid. McDermott accused Russia of distorting Iran's treaty obligations to the Soviet Union under a pact made in 1921. He asserted that this treaty is now outdated.

The Russian note announced by Moscow last night said that in receiving United States military assistance the Iranian government is putting its army "under the control of the United States."

Moreover it said this is incompatible with Iran's obligation under the 1921 pact. That treaty gives the Soviet government the right under certain specified conditions to put troops in Iran in defense of Soviet territory.

McDermott declared that the conditions necessary for such actions are not created by American aid to Iran. He said the Russian protest is simply "another Soviet attempt to intimidate the government of Iran."

The United States has been giving Iran military assistance in the form of advice and training help for about 10 years. During that period it has sent at least two military missions there. For the past two years a third mission has been in Iran to teach Iranian officers and men the use of modern equipment furnished under the mutual defense assistance program and more recently under its successor, the mutual security program.

McDermott said that all three missions have purely advisory and training functions.

Dionne School To Close, Girls Have Grown Up

Callander, Ont., May 23 (AP)—Villa Notre Dame school soon will close permanently because five famous sisters have grown up and are graduating.

The sisters are the Dionne quintuplets: Annette, Cecile, Marie, Yvonne and Emilie. They will be 18 next Wednesday, the day they receive their diplomas at a special ceremony in the playroom of their own home south of Callander.

Nine other girls of their age will graduate with them. The others have shared lessons with the quintuplets at Villa Notre Dame, the quintuplets' original nursery.

Papa Olivia Dionne said the quintuplets will attend some girls' college next year, not a convent.

The father said the quintuplets have no boy friends. "They have been too busy to think about that sort of thing" But, he added "when they see a boy, they can tell what kind of a boy he is."

PAD Removes Restrictions On Gas, Fuel Oil

Washington, May 23 (AP)—The government removed restrictions on the use of automobile gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil today and said it would ease aviation gasoline controls a bit next Tuesday.

Secretary of Interior Chapman, head of the Petroleum Administration for defense, said, however, that:

1. Bans on deliveries of aviation gasoline for sport and pleasure flying will continue in effect.
2. It will be at least mid-June before all restrictions on the use of aviation gasoline can be removed.

Action to ease the restrictions on use of petroleum were taken as the nation's oil strike neared almost complete settlement.

Taft And Ike To Lock Horns In Washington

Spokane, Wash., May 23 (AP)—Taft and Eisenhower forces lock horns tomorrow in a fierce fight for Washington's 24 national Republican convention delegates. Some said it might split the party in the state.

Supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower claimed a 60 per cent majority of the 900 delegates to the state convention and contended they could take as many as 22 of the 24 votes for the party's presidential nomination.

Charles Paul, the state manager for Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio) discounted this and said supporters of the Ohio senator have a majority according to a check he made last night. He said Taft should get at least 16 of the 24.

Both sides brought in their big guns to grab the 24 delegates. Albert C. Wedemeyer, the retired army general who now heads the national Citizens for Taft committee, spoke at a banquet tonight. Walter Williams, the Citizens for Eisenhower chairman, is also here.

Harold Stassen, an avowed candidate himself but regarded as sympathetic to Eisenhower, spoke at a banquet that competed with Wedemeyer for evening diners. The Eisenhower supporters called the Wedemeyer meal "a rump banquet"—claiming theirs was the official one.

Stassen will deliver the keynote address Saturday at the convention that convenes at 1 p.m. (EST).

State High Court Refuses To Rehear Truck Fee Hike

Springfield, Ill., May 23 (AP)—Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett's office said today that plans are being made to collect Illinois truck license fees at new and higher rates.

The announcement followed the state supreme court's action in refusing to rehear its March decision upholding validity of the law boosting the fees.

Because of the court fight brought by truckers, the increased rates have not been collected although they were voted by the legislature last year.

Under the new schedule, fees were raised 20 million dollars a year beginning last January and go up another eight million dollars in 1954.

William Vickers, chief clerk in Barrett's office, said the sale of truck license plates at the old fees will be stopped immediately. He said the "extensive procedures" necessary for the sale of truck license plates under the new scale "will be set up."

Attorneys for six small truckers who challenged the law and sought the rehearing said they intend to appeal to the U. S. supreme court.

Fees are earmarked for road improvement use.

Increases in the law's schedule range from $20 to $139 this year and next, and $26 to $1593 starting in 1954. They are based on truck weights.

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett's automobile division, which has been collecting fees at the old rates, said it will get advice from the attorney general before deciding whether it may collect the higher amount now.

The state highway division has been counting on higher gas tax and truck fees for a $100,000,000 road improvement program it laid out for this year.

FANS ATTEND FUNERAL

New York, May 23 (AP)—More than 10,000 fans, including many weeping women, surged against police barricades today at the funeral of actor John Garfield.

Five police radio cars stood bumper to bumper against the milling throngs outside a 79th street mortuary chapel.

It was reminiscent on a much smaller scale of the mob scenes when Rudolph Valentino was buried here in 1926. However, this crowd was more orderly.

Unions Sign RR's Return To Owners

Washington, May 23 (AP)—Three big rail unions signed new 16-month work contracts with the nation's railroads today and the government quickly issued an order returning the roads to their private owners.

For 21 months the carriers have been under government control. They were seized in August 1930 to avert a nation-wide strike for higher wages and changes in working rules.

Today's developments mean there may be many months of fairly stable labor-management peace on the 250,000 miles of railroads crisscrossing the United States.

The contracts were signed in a hotel suite by leaders of three unions—the engineers, firemen and conductors representing 150,000 workers—and three carrier groups representing more than 130 roads in the east, the southeast and the west.

President Truman seized the roads under a 1916 law dealing only with transportation systems. The White House said the law would expire the end of June, which would have placed the legality of continued government control in question.

The new contract signed today brings a 37-cent wage boost to men in the yards and a 22-cent raise to over-the-road workers. Yard workers will get another four cents an hour if and when they go on a 40-hour week.

Yard service men now are getting by government order 12½ cents of the recommended 37 cents, and draw average pay of about $1.59 an hour. Over-the-road workers, with 5 cents of their recommended 22¢ now being paid, average about $1.95.

US Warns Allies Of New Red Aggression

Washington, May 23 (AP)—The United States 10 days ago warned 16 United Nations countries with forces in Korea to be on guard against possible new Communist aggression in the Far East.

Representatives of the countries were warned in a briefing at the state department on the Korean situation.

Disclosing this today, the State department said Secretary Acheson was wrong when he said at a news conference Wednesday that no such warning had been issued.

President Elpidio Quirino of the Philippines had reported earlier in Manila that such a warning had been received from the United States.

In a statement to set the record straight, the department said: "It has now been learned that President Quirino was referring to the statement which had been made recently in Washington (May 13) to representatives of all nations participating in the U.N. action in Korea about the Communist buildup in the Korean and their capabilities for renewed offensive action."

Quirino was "quite right," the statement added, in "realizing the serious potentials of this buildup."

Informed officials disclosed the State department put out its correction today after Philippine Ambassador Carlos Romulo complained to Acting Secretary David Bruce that Acheson's remarks had embarrassed Quirino.

Today's statement said the State department agrees with Quirino "that all freedom loving nations must be constantly alert to possible renewed Communist aggression."

Further, it declared, there "must be no faltering" in the United Nations' determination to resist should new Communist aggression break out.

US Grant III Visits Home Town Of Former President

Galena, Ill., May 23 (AP)—Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, III, paid a surprise visit today to the hometown of his grandfather, the Civil War general and one-time president of the United States.

The 71-year-old Washington grand-tourer the home of his grandfather—now a state memorial.

Entering the shrine, he pointed out to Galena historians that two portraits of Grant family heroes were improperly identified, the portraits of his father, Maj. Gen. Frederick Dent Grant, and an uncle, Jesse Root Grant, also a son of the Civil War hero officer, were hastily reversed over their proper identification.

The pictures had been hung many years ago, a local historian said, and thousands of visitors to the Memorial had thus been given an erroneous impression of the two men.

Before leaving Galena, Gen. Grant posed for a newsman with Miss Anna Felt, a 92-year-old resident who told him she remembered seeing the Civil War general on Galena streets many times. After the picture was taken, Gen. Grant commented:

"I have a hard time trying to explain this to Mrs. Grant."

Gen. Grant, who is president of the national council of historic sights and buildings in Washington, came here alone.

Telegraphers End Strike

STORM SIGNALS OUT WIND STILL BLOWS

Joliet, Ill., May 23 (AP)—Seen a twister, mister?

The false rumor of an impending tornado struck the Joliet area today after a similar tale caused panic in Champaign and Urbana yesterday.

The story today quickly spread to a 50-mile radius around Joliet. At least two grade schools were ordered closed and telephone switchboards were jammed with calls.

It all started when the Joliet arsenal got a routine warning from O'Hare Field in Chicago this morning to be prepared for thunderstorms and high winds up to 55 to 60 miles an hour.

An employee overheard the warning and telephoned chief of police Otto Nelson at nearby Wilmington, telling him to warn a group of Boy Scouts holding at "Campore" there to last down their tents because of a storm "with winds of tornadoic proportions" was on the way.

The rumor spread to employees of the Elwood Ordnance plant just outside Wilmington. By this time, the "storm" was a full-fledged tornado. The workers telephoned their wives, and the story spread all over the Will county and over the line into Cook county and Chicago.

The Weather Bureau at Chicago reported getting a number of telephone queries about the tornado.

Newspapers and radio stations began reassuring readers and listeners that the tornado scare was unfounded. They hoped it would blow over soon.

Oh, yes. The 55 to 60 mile-an-hour winds also failed to materialize.

HST Signs Bill For Increase In Veterans Aid

Washington, May 23 (AP)—President Truman today approved "with great reluctance," he said—two bills increasing payments to disabled veterans and dependents, and he urged congress to undertake at once a study of such benefit programs.

As he has done before, Truman told congress in a special message that veterans whose disabilities have no connection with their service should be treated like everyone else under the social security system.

He estimated the eventual cost of the bills he signed today at 400 million dollars a year.

Congressional backers of both bills said they were needed to offset in part the rise in the cost of living. Truman did not take issue with this argument.

One bill calls for a 15 per cent increase in service-connected disability payments for veterans of all wars rated at 50 per cent or more disabled, and a 5 per cent increase for those rated 10 to 49 per cent disabled. It also up by 15 per cent payments to widows with children if their husbands died of service-connected disabilities.

Payments for non-service-connected disability for veterans of both World Wars and the Korean conflict are increased $3 a month except where the veteran requires the full-time attention of another person, in which case the increase is $9.

Payments to veterans of the civil, Indian and Spanish-American wars are upped 7½ per cent. There are also increases in the payments to widows and dependent children of veterans of the World Wars and the Korean conflict who died of disabilities not service-connected.

The second bill raises the income limits beyond which non-service-connected disability and death benefits are cut off. Present ceilings are $1,000 for a veteran without dependents and $2,500 for a veteran with dependents, or for a widow with children. They are raised to $1,400 and $2,700 respectively.

Taft Will Seek Aid Of MacArthur If Elected

Watertown, S.D., May 23 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) intimated strongly today that if he is elected president Gen. Douglas MacArthur would play an important part in foreign policy.

Taft told newsmen on his South Dakota campaign tour:

"Any Republican administration that would not make maximum use of the unique abilities and knowledge of Gen. MacArthur would indeed be derelict in its duty to the American people."

"I would certainly make available to our foreign and military policies this experience which is nowhere else to be found."

Taft's statement was issued after he had repeated, in campaign talks, attacks on the Truman foreign policy.

FCC Must Agree To Rate Hike

Washington, May 23 (AP)—Agreement was reached today for settling the 51-day strike of Western Union employees. The walkout will end Monday if the workers approve the pact.

The agreement provides pay raises for the 30,000 employees, but it goes into effect only if the government agrees to a boost in telegraph rates. The union agreed to help the company argue a rate increase before the Federal Communications Commission, which regulates telegraph charges.

Local meetings of the AFL's Commercial Telegraphers Union (CTU) were called across the nation for tomorrow and Sunday to vote on the agreement. Approval is expected.

The agreement was announced this morning by Cyrus S. Ching, head of the federal mediation and conciliation service. Two of Ching's aides, E. Marvin Scomers and James Holden, kept company and union officials in almost continuous day and night talks for a week.

These are the main points of the agreement:

1. Workers who have been on a 40-hour, 20 minute work week with 48½ hour pay will now receive the same weekly wage but work only a 40-hour week. They are to get no additional pay raise. About half the employees are in this category.

2. Workers who have been on a 40-hour week will get a 10-cent-an-hour increase. A relatively few workers on a 35-hour week will get a $22 a month raise. Bicycle messengers will get a 5-cent hourly raise.

3. The union agreed to modify its former union shop contract proviso. Under the union shop all employees must be union members. This was replaced with an "agency shop" arrangement, under which all workers, while not compelled to be union members, must pay union dues as a "service charge" for the union's services in representing them in employer relations.

10 Day Escape Period

The agreement provides that, a week after the strike ends, employees shall have a 10-day "escape" period in which they may resign union membership, but may nevertheless continue paying union dues. Those failing to withdraw during the 10-day period must remain in the union. New employees will have a 30-day period in which to decide on whether to join the union, but in any case must pay the regular dues.

Company spokesmen would not say how much of a rate increase they will ask of the FCC, but W. L. Allen, CTU president, said he understood the flat 10 per cent boost would be sought.

Some Rejections
Rejections of the pact came from Oakland, Calif., San Francisco, Los Angeles, Kansas City and Chicago.

Larry Ross, president of local 206 of the CTU in Chicago, said his local had rejected the terms of the agreement unanimously.

"They figured," Ross said, "that they would be working for less money than before, under the terms."

Local 48 of the CTU in Kansas City rejected the pact by a vote of 73 per cent against it, local Secretary Walter Girardin said.

Local one of the CTU in Chicago, turned down the agreement by a secret vote of 506 to 280.

HAWAII HAS EARTHQUAKE

Hilo, Hawaii, May 23 (AP)—The Hawaii Volcano Observatory reported a strong earthquake in the Kona area of Hawaii's southwestern coast at 12:13 p.m. Hawaiian time (4:12 p.m. CST) today.

Dr. Gordon A. MacDonald, volcanologist at the observatory, said the quake lasted 15 minutes "but all we can say now is that it was strong—we cannot grade it yet."

Kona police reported some minor property damage.

KING OF "SILENTS"

In the days of the silent movies William Fox, who was brought here as an infant from his native Hungary, was one of the greatest figures in the industry. He worked in a sweatshop in the East Side of New York and saved his money. For $600 he bought a small garment shop, sold it at a profit, ran a penny arcade in Brooklyn, to which he added movies.

In five years he made $500,000—that was before the days of income taxes—and was soon launched upon a phenomenal career of movie producer and controller of a chain of 450 theaters.

While Hollywood was in its infancy, Mr. Fox was producing movies with such stars as Theda Bara, first of the "vampires," in "A Fool There Was"; Annette Kellerman in "A Daughter of the Gods," which cost the then fabulous sum of $700,000, and William Farnum. He produced his first films at Fort Lee, N. J., which became a hive of movie activity.

Before 1926, when the "talkies" came in, he was head of a theatrical empire that ran into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Inability to adjust his empire to the spoken movies, coupled with the stock market crash in 1929, was Mr. Fox's undoing. He was later a petitioner in bankruptcy with liabilities of $9,900,000 and assets of $100. His life thereafter was not a happy one.

Mr. Fox, dead at 73, had a career as amazing in its vicissitudes as that in any script he filmed. He was known to many millions in the first quarter of this century as a dynamic figure in a then new field of entertainment.

BLOCKADE JITTERS

Trying to get a straight answer from the Russians on the shooting up of a harmless French passenger plane flying into Berlin three weeks ago has been futile as usual. The Russian retort to a protest by Allied officials was that the plane was flying outside the air corridor from Frankfurt to Berlin.

The Berlin air safety center at Tempelhof Airdrome at Berlin reports that it had the French plane on its radar scope at the time of the attack. It reports that the plane was smack in the middle of the corridor and at the correct altitude.

Allied officers at the safety center held a formal meeting to assess the damage to the French air liner. Soviet officers were invited to attend but none showed up. Instead they lodged a protest regarding another plane incident which was largely repetitive of the wording of the first one.

The Allies of course stick by their charges—and they are echoed by West German officials—that the attack by Red jet fighters which occurred on April 29 was coldly calculated rough stuff.

When the Russians do something like this it is all part of a plan, and the Allies think they see what's up. American military police units which patrol the road link between Berlin and the West have not been allowed through Russian checkpoints for several days. Phone lines have been cut linking East and West Berlin.

These incidents added together make it appear that the Russians are trying to force a case of blockade jitters on the Allies and on officials of West Berlin. This is the Russians' way of retaliating against West Germans for the pending contractual agreement with the West.

But "blockade jitters" do not hold the terrors they once did for Western Berliners and their allies. Those who live near a powder magazine learn to be careful, but they don't panic every time something untoward happens.

Boyle's Column

OVER NIAGARA FALLS: "SHOW ME THE DOUGH AND I'LL GO"

BY HAL BOYLE

Niagara Falls, N. Y. —(P)—Many have dreamed of winning fame and fortune by going over Niagara falls in a barrel.

She people have done it. Three lives have been forfeited to death by the waters.

The only surviving victim of the falls now is Jean Lussier, who bounced and floated in a home-made rubber ball over the Canadian side of the Cataract on July 4, 1928. He emerged uninjured.

Jean, a rugged former carnival stunt man, now works as a machine operator in an industrial plant here. He will be 59 years old this year.

Lussier, who has escaped the bad luck that caught up with other conquerors of the Niagara, says he would like to go over the falls a second time. But with him it's serious business.

"Show me the dough, and I'll go," he said. "But it will have to be this year or next year—after that I'll be too old."

Jean would like to become the first man in history to go over the American side of the falls, which is particularly hazardous because of the rocks beneath. He already has designed a three-layer rubber ball to be built around an aluminum frame. He says all he needs now is a sponsor willing to put up $3,000 to construct the ball—and the $10,000 fee he wants to make the voyage.

"I'll go over any waterfall in the world in a rubber ball," he said. "If the fall is too high, I'll put wings on the ball."

The first person to ride over Niagara falls successfully was a Doughty lady schoolteacher, Mrs. Annie Edson Taylor. Her vehicle was a crude wooden barrel with iron hoops.

Mrs. Taylor emerged below the falls unscathed, sold souvenir cards of her exploit at a local museum, and died years later in the poorhouse.

How does it feel going over the falls?

"I kept bracing for a sharp jar, but it never came," recalled Lussier. "It was like making a ski jump in slow motion. The ball was under the water only a minute and five seconds."

In the next 14 years Lussier made a small fortune touring the world with his rubber ball and telling the story of his 78-minute exploit.

"I'm satisfied," he said. "It paid off for me."

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

BY ERKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours: Hollywood's about to unveil a new husband-and-wife romantic team—Stewart Granger and Jean Simmons in "Young Bess"—but they have no dreams of becoming a steady marriage combination.

Waiting to do a scene in "The Prisoner of Zenda," Granger said: "We're looking forward to doing this film together. But I'm told there's a funny reaction to husbands and wives in screen clutches. People say, 'This is legal. It's not exciting.'"

Granger and Jean teamed up once before in a British film when he asked J. Arthur Rank for her as his co-star. He remembers it like this: "Rank said, 'We'll have to be cholly clever about it. You're rather elderly and she's so young.' So we did a Daddy-Long-Legs type story which took care of my being 15 years older than Jean."

Judy Holliday, who didn't bother to deny the rumor at first, is now saying that the story is ridiculous. Errol Flynn is saying that Pat Wyne won't be accompanying him to London for the swashbuckler he will make for Warners. A trial separation maybe?

The army has already turned down two screen treatments of "From Here to Eternity," but the word's out that a third version of the best seller is about to get the Pentagon okay. Anne Baxter's vowing that, rumors to the contrary, everything's fine between her and John Hodiak.

HIS OWN CHANCE

Kirk Douglas who lost out twice in the Academy Award race, finally wins a prop Oscar as the movie producer who makes Lana Turner a star in MGM's Hollywood backgrounded "Tribute to a Badman."

"Don't tell anyone," he grinned. "But I'm finally getting a chance to use my acceptance speech."

Kirk's been rumored for the role of Capt. Queeg in "The Caine Mutiny" for Producer Stanley Kramer who boosted him to stardom in "Champion." But Queeg, says Kirk isn't for him.

"I don't think I'm the type," he told me. "I'd much rather play the lawyer who defends Lt. Mark."

Rhonda Fleming's flame, Dr. Lew Morrill, is building a mansion in the hope that she will finally say "yes" to his bent-knee speech. Pals of Jane Wyman and Travis Kleefeld insist there isn't a chance they will change their minds and marry.

The romance, they predict, is due for an any-day breakup. Pat Roney's wearing his busted heart in a sling over Mona Freeman's decision to call it a day. Other night at a Beverly Hills cafe, Pat sat moodily and kept sending notes to Mona—in the dining room with another escort.

If humans can make film comebacks, so can animals. Tubby, a Boxer dog who was a canine puppy star three years ago and "retired" when he reached the "awkward" age, is back before the cameras. Now a mature 85 pounds, he's playing Gary Merrill's pet pooch in "Night Without Sleep."

WHO'S ON FIRST?

Orson Welles' unorthodox editing of "Othello"—it's Suzanne Cloutier as Desdemona in the clouspeus but five other actresses, all of whom played the role for him at various times, in the long-shots—may result in the year's biggest legal battle over billing.

One of the Desdemonas in the longshots, I hear, is Betty Blair, wife of Gene Kelly, who was replaced by Orson after several days shooting. English actor Robert Coote, now at MGM after working in the film, is still wide-eyed about it. He told me: "One day I was having lunch with one of the Desdemonas and two other Desdemonas were sitting together at a table across from us. Really odd, it was fantastic."

The Peter Lawford-Jean McDonal love idyl is over and once more slippery Pete is playing the field. Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz mixed an offer to play the Romy Theater in New York this summer. Not enough green stuff. Major studio on an economy program tried to get Gary Cooper for a movie and quickly lost interest when Cooper's asking-and-getting price was quoted. Still $200,000. The new film version of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" by Dick and Mary Sale will retain the songs of the stage hit, but will lean heavily on Anita Loos' best seller of the '20's for the dialog.

About one-sixth of the world's oil comes from wells in the Near East.

LITTLE LIZ

Since this boy was apparently burned only on the outside of his head, it seems likely that the burn had anything to do with his present progress in school. The boy should be tested by the school, and his parents informed as to whether he has the mental capacity to do his school work. If he does, perhaps he merely lacks the interest; if he does not, perhaps the school authorities could advise some special school for him.

Q—I have the condition known as alopecia areata, but have never had a complete cure. Is there any home treatment which would be suitable?

A—Alopecia areata, sometimes called baldness in spots, is a curious condition, the cause of which is not known. There is, as yet, no sure cure for it, though the majority appear to recover eventually with or without treatment.

Q—What is the effect of bad tonsils in an adult? Is there any danger of cancer of the throat if they are not removed?

Daily Reader. A—Bad tonsils in a grownup can be responsible for chronic sore throat or recurring attacks of tonsillitis. It is believed, also, that the tonsils can cause ill effects, in some cases, on the body as a whole. If they are truly diseased, it is best to have them removed, but there is not much risk that they will produce cancer of the throat.

Q—I have had a hysterectomy, and both ovaries removed at two operations. My age is 35, and I wonder what the state of my health should be from now on. Will I ever be able to do all my own housework and gardening without fear

The MATURE PARENT

Success as Homemaker Tests Talent for Love

BY MURIEL LAWRENCE

Because of Myra's singing voice, her family called her "Lark." They bought her biographies of famous opera stars and sent her away to a very expensive conservatory for training. When she fell in love instead of graduating, their disappointment was intense. Her parents said "What can you be thinking of to throw your genius away to keep house for this man?"

When Myra's baby was born, they were so pleased they forgot what they'd said. But Myra didn't forget. She began to develop chronic fatigue. At night, she would look at herself in the mirror, remembering how different she had looked as Gilda in the conservatory's production of "Rigoletto." Then, because it was the thing to do, she'd go in to check Petey's bedcovers. Often, she was too tired to do more than note with irritation that he's been sucking his thumb again.

When Petey was five years old, his problems forced her to take him to a guidance clinic. There, a man whom she trusted and admired said casually to her one day, "If you don't want to sing at your club's concert, why do you?" It was a shattering question for Myra. The suggestion that she might not have to show off to keep approval threw all her previous values out of balance. But as she began to grope for new ones, she became aware of a secret overwhelming relief.

She began to seek ways to show her gratitude to the world which did not require her to continue impersonating a frustrated opera star. Freed from her compulsion to practice arias when Petey wanted attention, she freed Petey from his compulsion to demand it. By the end of another six months, Petey was sure enough of his mother's love to play by himself when she practiced her scales.

Dr. Karen Horney, a distinguished New York psychiatrist, writing in her book "Our Inner Conflicts": "A housewife will not do her work well if she secretly feels that it is unfair that, gifted as she is, she should be doing menial work. The prospect of doing something mediocre is so deterring that she prefers not to do it, but to perform magnificently in fantasy. Any kind of work under these conditions is bound to take more out of a person just as a car will suffer if it is driven with locked brakes."

The Bible summarizes Dr. Horney's comments like this: "A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways." If our homemaking tires us unduly, it is not impossible that we are operating on energies locked in indecision. If we feel that cooking, cleaning and marketing are beneath us, we should want to know why. If we properly appreciate our understanding of order, beauty and ease of spirit, we will appreciate all our expressions of them. We will not be envious and romantic about imaginary careers, but realize that all work includes routines as well as satisfactions.

We American women tend to romanticize members of our sex who have made successful careers in the arts and professions. I have tried to control my impulse to romanticize such women since the night I saw a famous woman novelist collapse into tears because she had royalties to take care of instead of children. I often remember her face when I hear us laugh apologetically on radio quiz programs as we say, "Me? Oh, I'm just an ordinary housewife."

We should stop depreciating ourselves in private and public. Our success as homemakers tests our talent for love severely. If we depreciate it, we have been cruelly deceived into believing that homemaking is just a series of physical exercises.

Sunday Is Fried Chicken Day

BY GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Food and Markets Editor

A big batch of fried chicken, a boat of gravy, mountains of mashed potatoes and a dish of green vegetables—that's a wonderful American Sunday dinner.

But for best results with broiler-fryer "all purpose" chickens, now so plentiful and relatively inexpensive, let's take a quickie refresher course in frying know-how.

The Poultry and Egg National Board certainly should know its chicken.

Fried Chicken

Chicken fries best when disjointed. Have it cut up to order, buy it by the piece according to taste and needs or buy frozen, cut-up chicken. Here are the ABC's of perfect frying:

A—For each pound of chicken, blend 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon paprika, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper in paper bag or shallow bowl. Shake chicken, 2 or 3 pieces at a time, in bag to coat evenly, or dredge in flour in bowl. Save any leftover flour for gravy.

B—Heat cooking fat (oil or shortening) about 1/2 to 1-inch deep in skillet till drop of water sizzles.

C—Start browning meaty pieces such as drumsticks and thighs first, slipping less meaty pieces in between as chicken browns. Turn occasionally with tongs or two spoons for even browning. To avoid crowding and to save time, use two skillets to cook all pieces at the same time. Save pan drippings for gravy.

D—When chicken is uniformly browned—15 to 20 minutes—reduce heat and cook till done, 20 to 40 minutes. If chicken was large, weighing around 3 pounds, ready to cook, and drumsticks are thick, cover skillet after first 15 minutes. Remove cover during last 5 to 10 minutes to re-crisp skin. Flour, brown and cook giblets with the chicken. If desired, before serving cut neck in 3 sections and slice gizzard, heart and liver into thin slices to serve all in gravy.

E—Test for doneness. Chicken is done when meat on thickest part of drumstick cuts easily and there is no pink color visible. Note: In the South, many good cooks fry in 1/3 butter and 2/3 lard for extra flavor. Some soak it in salt water before frying. True Southern-fried chicken is never cooked in batter, this is Maryland, or more accurately, Baltimore style. Today's broiler-fryer chickens need no pre-cooking of any kind before frying.

SUNDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, crisp bacon, waffles or thin griddle cakes, honey or syrup, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Fried chicken, gravy, fluffy mashed potatoes, buttered green beans, enriched soft rolls, buttered or fortified margarine, water-cress and tomato salad, French dressing, old-fashioned strawberry shortcake, cream, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Tomato cheese rabbit on toasted English muffins, fresh fruit cup, chocolate cookies, iced tea, milk.

The World Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 23 —(P)—Sometimes, walking around in broad daylight, the little man felt it was four o'clock in the morning, still dark outside, and he was lying in bed waiting for daylight to come and clear things up.

Too many big things were happening for him to keep them all clear in his head and some of the old rules weren't any good any more.

Only yesterday Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, fresh from running the war in Korea told Congress further bargaining is out of the question and the issue of war or peace is up to the communists.

For 10 months Ridgway's men have been talking truce with the communists and now, Ridgway seemed to be saying, there was not much left to talk about but both sides might keep talking because neither seemed anxious to start a full-scale war going again.

Ridgway was on his way to Europe to relieve General Eisenhower who was trying to build an army where a shooting war with Russia hadn't started but might.

But the army was getting built over there. And this weekend Germany was going to sign up with the American League against Russia.

Eisenhower said Congress might cut the money the president asked for a bit, and things would still come out all right, but he said if Congress lopped off as much as a billion dollars it would hurt and a cut of more than a billion might endanger the military build-up.

But Sen. Taft, campaigning here at home against Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination, said he favored a two billion dollar cut. These were the big leaguers, Eisenhower and Taft, so the little man couldn't tell—this early, who was right.

Last night a majority in the house seemed to side more with Taft than Eisenhower because the house voted a cut in foreign aid closer to Taft's figure than to Eisenhower's. After two weeks of talk the Senate last night passed the immigration bill which President Truman might veto, thus knocking two weeks' work into a cocked hat and the president himself was in the midst of stuff the little man got dizzy trying to follow.

The steel case, the clean-up of government corruption which never seems to get started....

Wisconsin Hopefuls Shape Up To Race McCarthy To Senate

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent Washington — (NEA) — The general supposition has been that Wisconsin Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy is unbeatable in his bid for reelection this fall. But events are now shaping up in the Badger state to give him a run for his money.

With a July 8 deadline for filing as candidates for the September 9 state primary, there is now one avowed Democratic candidate for McCarthy's Senate seat, with another entry or two likely.

Considered still more important, there is now a new Republican star on the Wisconsin horizon on whom the anti-McCarthy GOP hopefuls are making wagers.

He is Leonard (Len) Schmitt, 49-year-old war veteran, a former candidate for governor in the 1950 primary and now a lawyer in Merrill, Wis. Incidentally, on his war record, he actually saw service in the Italian campaign and has combat experience to his credit.

Schmitt has just concluded a short visit to Washington to let the Republican big wigs here look him over and see how much support he might expect from anti-McCarthy elements of the party. Schmitt's backer on his Washington visit and his supporter at home is William T. Evjue, editor of the Madison, Wis., Capital Times.

Mr. Evjue is a crusading editor of the old Fighting Bob LaFollette progressive school. His paper has cited chapter and verse on McCarthy's record in Wisconsin, before he came to Washington, and has never been challenged on its charges.

HIS GERMAN BACKGROUND FAVORS SCHMITT

Len Schmitt made a favorable impression on his visit to Washington. He is a husky, blond and blue-eyed German Catholic. This is said to be an important factor in his favor.

Wisconsin is about 30 per cent Catholic and it is German to a far greater degree. The Germans far outnumber the Irish—with which faction Senator McCarthy is identified.

Schmitt also counts heavily on being able to attract the old LaFollette progressive faction in the primary. If the Democrats have no strong candidate to run against McCarthy, Schmitt believes the anti-McCarthy Democrats would throw their support to him.

Schmitt also counts heavily on being able to attract the old LaFollette progressive faction in the primary. If the Democrats have no strong candidate to run against McCarthy, Schmitt believes the anti-McCarthy Democrats would throw their support to him.

While Senator McCarthy has been backed by the Wisconsin Republican organization under Tom Coleman as a particular favorite, there are some elements in the state on whose support he may not be able to depend this year.

Rep. Alvin O'Konski, for instance, is bitter against the McCarthy-Coleman leadership for their opposition to his application for a Merrill, Wis., radio station license. O'Konski is a former director of the World League to stop Communism and a former president of the American Anti-Communist Assn. This indicates that McCarthy's opposition to communism is not a monopoly.

One other paradox in the McCarthy story, according to Schmitt, is that the senator was elected in 1946 with considerable help from Communist factions in the Wisconsin organized labor movement. This arose because young Sen. Bob LaFollette, in disbanding the old Progressive party, chose to go with the Republicans instead of the Democrats. Communist elements in control of Wisconsin labor organizations at the time thereupon denounced LaFollette and voted for McCarthy.

EXPECTS UNIONS TO BACK MCCARTHY OPPONENT

Today this Communist control of organized labor in Wisconsin has been largely cleaned out, and the unions' official support is expected to go to anyone who will oppose McCarthy.

Until early this year, the anti-McCarthy Republicans had hoped that Gov. Walter Kohler would make the race for the Senate. Instead he got cold feet and decided to run for reelection as governor.

Governor Kohler's withdrawal for a time made it appear that if McCarthy is beaten for re-election, it will have to be met by a Democrat.

Two possibilities have appeared on the scene, though they have not yet formally announced candidacy. One is Thomas E. Fairchild, former state attorney general, now U. S. district attorney for Wisconsin. This other is State Sen. Gaylord Nelson.

The one avowed Democratic candidate who is actively working at it is Henry Reuss, son of a well-to-do Milwaukee family, graduate of Cornell and Harvard Law school. He was a candidate for state attorney general and for mayor of Milwaukee two years ago, but lost both races.

He has been affiliated with the ADA—Americans for Democratic Action—wing of the party. He was a lawyer for OPA during the war and served later in Europe on the Marshall Plan staff.

From the rough and tumble politician's point of view, he is considered too much of an intellectual to have any greater popular appeal. And he has a tough handicap to overcome in Senator McCarthy's strong rural and up-state support, outside the Milwaukee and eastern Wisconsin industrial areas.

★ RUTH MILLETT ★

Younger Women Like Older Woman Who Acts Her Age

She was one of several older women at the party. The younger women were courteously attentive to all the older women, but one by one they finally drifted to this particular woman's side.

Something about her drew them to her. And when she left the party early they were appreciative comments about her charm.

What did she have that drew those younger women to her? What did she offer that made her outstanding in their minds?

Well, first of all, she was frankly her age. Not by clothes or too much make-up did she indicate that she was pretending to be any age but what she was.

The older woman who tries to compete with younger women on their own terms is rarely liked by younger women. She may just seem slightly ridiculous, or a little sad, or she may give the impression that she is really deeply critical of the younger women because she is actually envious of them.

She showed interest in those she met. Then, too, this older woman seemed vitally interested in those she met, interested in them as people, not in who they were and who they knew. There were no pointed, searching questions to indicate that kind of social snobbery.

The first session of the Jacksonville Sportsmen's Club Fishing School will be held in Nichols Park on the edge of Morgan Lake across from the Superintendents office, Sunday morning, from 9 a.m. until 12 o'clock, Harry Story, local secretary, announced Friday.

The Sportsmen's club has invited all persons in the community who have an interest in either fly or plug casting and who would like assistance in improving their casting ability or in learning to use equipment which they may already have purchased.

Instructors will be members of the Sportsmen club, headed by Frank Branstetter, a well known local authority. Particularly attention will be given to young boys and girls just learning to cast either plugs or flies.

Chairman Branstetter requested that each student bring his own casting rod or fly rod or both and a five-eighths ounce practice casting plug. He stated that the course will comprise four Sunday morning sessions and will lead to a "B. F." degree (Bachelor of Fishing.)

This is the first school of instruction conducted by the Sportsmen club and if sufficient interest is shown it is expected that the school will become a regular part of the conservation program of the club.

Marion Thorne, well known sportsman, is president of the Jacksonville chapter.

Eighty-Four

On Sunday, May 25 a family dinner will honor the 84th birthday of Mrs. Margaret M. Wild of Woodson. The dinner will be given at the home of her niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sperry of North Main road. Mrs. Wild's birthday was Thursday, May 22.

Mrs. Wild has spent her entire life in and near Morgan county and has been a resident of Woodson for over 50 years. A daughter, Alice, resides with her mother. Mrs. Wild is quite active for her age doing most of her own housework and enjoys reading the daily Jacksonville Journal. Until four years ago she tended her own garden and mowed her lawn until she was over 80 years of age.

Friends wishing to visit her are cordially invited to do so Sunday afternoon at the Sperry home.

40 Soap Box Derby Entries; More Due

Five more boys have signed up at Derby headquarters for the 1952 renewal of the Journal Courier-Cornbelt Chevrolet Soap Box Derby. This brings to 40 the total number who are prepared to roll off the big ramp at the head of Grove street next July in the annual scramble for the championship.

As an indication of the interest already worked up among the younger fry this year is the fact that forty racers was the total number at starting time last July. Frank Goin of Cornbelt Chevrolet, manager of the local Derby, predicted Friday that "the number of racers who will be on hand July 13 probably will exceed 50. It will be one of the largest fields we have had in recent years."

"We have room for 15 or more boys yet," Goin said, "so any youngster between 10 and 15 who thinks he would like to win a cup, a tool kit or any one of a host of valuable prizes, shouldn't delay in signing up."

Goin said no deadline has yet been set for registration in this year's race, "but the way things are going we are likely to have to clamp on the lid in a few more weeks."

He urged all boys who are interested in the race "to sign up and get started immediately on building your soap boxes. Soap box racers are works of art and require time and care to build," he said.

Expect Big Crowd

Byron Lewis, chairman of the Exchange Club's Derby committee, announced Friday morning that the committee is preparing to handle a crowd "which will run into the thousands." Stout ropes, speedway will be strung from tree to tree to keep the crowd off the track. The ramp, which is in need of some repair, Lewis said, will be worked on in the near future. The day of the race the local carpenters' union voluntarily erects the ramp.

Lewis again called the attention of the citizens of Jacksonville to the presence of boys on the streets testing their racers. And he again warned the boys to "stay off the heavily traveled streets." "Let's not mar our record of no accidents involving soap boxers," the chairman urged.

Among the latest to sign up for July's big race is a Winchester boy, a veteran from the 1951 classic who came close to winning the championship. He is smiling, personally Bobby Slagle, sponsored by the Hi Way Cafe. When asked how he thought he would come out this year, Bobby flashed a big grin and said "I figure I'll give the boys the same kind of run for their money as I did last year. A lot depends on the breaks, but a lot more depends on your racer and the skill with which you jockey it down Grove street. I have a year's experience under my belt now and that will be a big advantage."

Winchester Challenger

Bobby is 15 years old and in the eighth grade in the Winchester grade school. "Springfield took home the bacon last year," he noted, "and I hope I can take it for Winchester this year."

All but one of the other soap boxers who signed up lately are from Jacksonville. They intend to forestall Slagle's efforts to take the championship to Winchester. They are Lyndall Woodward, 636 South Koelschko, a fifth-grader in Washington school who is entered for the first time; Dan Woodward, 636 South Kaschuko, David Prince, veteran of past races and sponsored by Ed Blesse; Danny Bahan, 159 Caldwell, also a veteran and a student at Junior High, sponsored by Bahan Brothers; and Dick Clause, South Jacksonville, sponsored by Mutual Benefit Insurance company of Omaha, who says he thinks "I can take the championship cup outside the city limits, too."

New Pastor

Carl Eugene Hallstrom of Galesburg will deliver his first sermon as pastor of the Midwest Gospel Center, 111 South East street on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Hallstrom are students at the Midwest Bible school at St. Louis, Mo.

WHAT WILL IT BE TODAY?

This man is a grocer. He can supply your grocery needs. But, before you enter his store, you think about the things you need.

Not far from you there is a church. That church can supply your spiritual needs, the very real, but intangible requirements of the human soul, which are just as important to a person's well-being as the items on the "grocery list."

Go to Church Sunday! But right now take stock of your life! Think about your needs!

Faith? Courage? Guidance? Comfort? Not many of us have all we need for today... and tomorrow... and another day.

As we realize our spiritual needs, the Church makes possible for each of us a higher standard of living.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Alias Basil Willing

By Helen McCloy

THE STORY: Jack Duggan, a private detective who had been using Basil Willing's name, is murdered and Miss Katherine Shaw dies under mysterious circumstances following a dinner party at the home of a psychiatrist, Dr. Zimmer. In spite of the deaths, Dr. Zimmer decides to resume the gatherings and Basil takes Miss Charlotte Deane to attend and report on what occurs. But late that night there is a call from Perdita Lawrence, a friend of Basil's, who is in a panic. She tells him that her father, Stephen Lawrence, Perdita's father, is dying and wants Basil to come at once.

XXIII

A GATE blocked an archway between two apartment buildings on Barrow Street. Light from a street lamp showed a number over the arch itself. The gate was unlocked. Beyond Basil found a great court walled with apartment buildings on four sides. He crossed flagstones and pulled an old-fashioned bell rope. Footfalls clattered down a short stair. The door was jerked open. Perdita, eyes wild in a pale face, dressing gown awry, panting, "Thank God you've come. This way."

Basil had a swift impression of low ceilings, a wide, deep fireplace, uneven floor boards as he followed her up a narrow stair. She plunged through a hallway equally narrow to a door. Now they were in an attic bedroom with sloping walls and a nether fireplace. Perdita paused at the foot of an army cot. "There are so many more things I wanted to say to him, to ask him . . ." The cry was torn from her. "Now, I shan't be able to—ever. I don't realize it would be like this."

For a moment, Basil thought he was too late. Then exploring fingertips found a thread of pulse.

Perdita sobbed. "He seemed all right when we left Dr. Zimmer's, but . . ."

"Later. Bring me dry mustard, lukewarm water. Start a pot of strong coffee."

Perdita hurried away. Basil took a hypodermic out of his bag. After a moment Lawrence's eyelids fluttered. Basil put an arm around his shoulders and pulled him up in the bed. "You must make an effort. You must keep awake."

Lawrence looked at Basil with bleared eyes. "Why?"

"For your daughter's sake."

"Are you sure she wouldn't be happier if I were gone?"

"If you go like this, she'll be tortured by a sense of failure and guilt all the rest of her life."

Lawrence looked into Basil's eyes for what seemed a long time. Actually it must have been no more than 30 seconds. Lawrence sighed and closed his eyes. "Clever. The one thing—that would make me go on."

"Of course, it takes more courage to live than die," answered Basil. "But you have courage."

The eyes opened again. "What if I did this myself?"

"I didn't hear a word of that," lied Basil as Perdita came back with mustard and water.

Lawrence began to mutter incoherently to himself. "Should be glad . . . dispatch himself . . . further suffering . . . free self . . . prison . . . rack . . . torture. Perdita. The lost one. Lost. Wandering in Limbo. All supposed to know each other. Rosamund. Rosamund. Rose of the World. Belle Dame Sans Merci. No. Not Keats. Coleridge."

"Is Death that woman's mate?" Her lips were red, her looks were free.

Her locks were yellow as gold. Her skin was white as leprosy. The Nightmare-Life-in-Death was she."

Horror filled Perdita's eyes. She whispered, "His mind . . . wandering . . ."

Basil looked at her keenly. "I wonder . . ."

After the second vomiting, Basil sent Perdita for the coffee.

"Take a cup yourself," he told her. "You look ghastly."

"Never mind me."

"Doctor's orders. I can't have you collapsing while I'm busy with him."

She obeyed.

Lawrence sipped coffee slowly. His lips became less blue.

"Now you must walk," said Basil.

"Walk?" Lawrence blinked drowsily.

"I'll hold you up, but you must make the effort yourself."

"I'm sleepy."

"That is why you must walk."

Lawrence leaned heavily on Basil, shuffled over to the window, back to the bed.

Perdita watched, eyes wide, tearless, bright.

"Can't I help?"

Basil looked at her. "You're not strong enough. Physically or mentally. Better leave us."

She went out. With a sigh, Lawrence sat on the edge of the bed. "You can't rest yet."

"I'm so tired."

Basil slapped his face smartly. Astonishment opened Lawrence's eyes. Anger brought him to his feet. Then he smiled. "Thanks."

They began to walk again.

"Where is your bottle of codeine pills?" Basil asked him.

"The bathroom."

Lawrence stumbled as they crossed the bedroom. In the bathroom, he stretched a shaking hand toward a bottle on a glass shelf. The bottle crashed to the tiled floor, splintered in shreds. Lawrence stumbled again, caught the washstand to steady himself, trampling the pills.

Eighteen Models of Other Makes of Cars Cost More!

Official price lists show that there are eighteen different models of American motor cars, produced by five separate automotive manufacturers, which actually cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac—when similarly equipped.

If you find this difficult to believe—then you're in good company!

For the record also shows that, during the past few years, literally hundreds of thousands of motorists have taken title to these costlier models. And there can be little doubt that many of them did so simply because they failed to realize how relatively modest the cost of a Cadillac can be.

They simply assumed that exclusive in quality means exclusive in price! And it is doubtful if a single misunderstanding ever cost so many motorists so much!

It cost them, first of all, the satisfaction of owning a Cadillac! For there is no substitute for the sense of pride and well-being that comes from owning a motor car that is universally recognized as the "Standard of the World."

It cost them, too, the pleasure of driving a Cadillac! And this, beyond any question, is the greatest penalty of all! For in missing out on the many thrills to be found behind its wheel—they're missing out on motoring's finest rewards.

And, of course, it also cost them Cadillac's many long-range economies—its almost unbelievable gas-line mileage, its unsurpassed dependability, and its legendary long life.

We know that you wouldn't want to make such a costly mistake in the selection of your next car. But you'd better be careful—because there are eighteen different ways to make it!

So when the time comes—investigate! And if you pay the price of a Cadillac—be sure that you get one!

Former Resident Of City Dies At Wisconsin Home

Also attending the funeral from here were Mrs. Heinz's uncle, George Hoffman and his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffman. Though Mrs. Heinz had undergone surgery recently her death was unexpected.

A number of the parents bring their children along if they are of nursery school age. The institute conducts a nursery school for the children while the parents attend workshops, meetings and other activities.

The staff includes outstanding workshop leaders, nursery school educators, psychologists and social workers and consultants in the field of psychiatry, ophthalmology, child development and special services for the blind.

The parents and their children live in cottages at the school for the blind. There is no charge for the week at institute.

Last year 29 fathers, 43 mothers some grandmothers, foster mothers and 34 children attended, as well as aunts. Enrollment for the 1952 institute is expected to be the same or a little higher.

LITTLE LEAGUERS CHECK IN

Practice games will get underway Monday on the State Hospital diamond. Wilson reports. The regular league will open June 9.

Routt Nine Drops 9-2 Bout To End Season

Springfield — (Special) — Lanphier tripped Routt of Jacksonville 9-2 in the final baseball game of the season for both teams here yesterday afternoon. The host Lion nine touched Rocket twirlers Paul Lawless and Pat Dowling for only three safe hits. Walks and errors, however, made the difference for the Springfield club.

Routt scored both runs in the first inning when Jim Costello and Jim Phalen socked out two of the four Rocket hits.

Lanphier pitcher Barcroft slammed the door after that and didn't allow another Jacksonville run to score.

Lanphier scored in every inning except the fourth. Dowling, a freshman, relieved Lawless on the Routt slab in the sixth inning.

Routt finished the prep baseball season with a 6-9 record.

State Hospital, Rogerson's Nine Softball Winners

Two more lop-sided softball games marked play at Nichols park diamond Friday night.

Rogerson's battered the Samore nine, 11-2, in a six-inning opener, halted by the ten-run rule. The Jacksonville State Hospital club defeated the Merchants 15-9 in the nightcap, which was called in the sixth inning because of rain.

Darrel Strubbe, who threw them overhanded for the Franklin high school nine during the spring baseball season, showed his adeptness at softball pitching by going all the way for Rogerson's in the opener.

Dick Beasley was charged with the loss.

Rogerson's started slow, but pushed across six runs in the sixth to clinch the decision.

John Turner was credited with the win for the State Hospital nine.

He kept the Merchants well under control, but when he was relieved in the fifth, the younger batters went to work and produced a seven-run inning. Rain then halted the fray. Jim Biesse started on the hill for the Merchants, and was charged with the loss.

No games are slated at the south-side park tonight.

Roaring Speedway Cars In Action Here Sunday

Local Track Rates High With Pilots

Indianapolis may claim all the glory of the speed world next week, but Jacksonville will rate a prominent place in the hearts of dirt track speed fans, tomorrow afternoon, when the greatest names in racing will be here to compete in the 4th annual IMCA championship big car races on the fair grounds half-mile oval.

Many fans from all parts of the nation have notified Ed Jackson, of the sponsoring Zingabod Grotto, that they will be here enroute to the Indianapolis speed trials for a look at Bill Holland, famous Indianapolis pilot and winner of the 1949 500-mile race as he attempts to turn back the challenges of the spectacular Bobby Grim, who holds two feature wins over the Reading, Pa. driver in recent weeks.

All along "gasoline alley" and wherever racing fans meet, the conversation immediately begins with "Do you think that the Les King can Grim beat Holland again?" or "Do you think that Les King Offy with a little midget motor and a supercharger develops sufficient horsepower to take those 274 cubic inch jobs?" A few wagers have been placed on Grim, while others favor Little Phil Mocco of St. Louis, who won here in 1950.

Those who have watched Jimmy Campbell of Bates City, Missouri in his new Kurtis-Kraft Offenhauser claim that he is the real threat for first place honors.

Ken Rubright, the former URA midget champion, caused quite a stir among the garage mechanics when he pulled into town with the trim yellow and maroon Heath Offy, which carried him to third place in the national speedways circuit standings for 1951. "The Rubie" as he is known to midwest speed fans is a tough man to beat on any kind of a race track and old timers give him more than an outside chance to cop top money providing he catches a "slick" track tomorrow.

Another eleventh hour entry was filed here today with Bud Costello of Des Moines, Iowa nominating young Billy Richardson, the former Iowa hot-rod kingpin to chauffeur his new car powered with a GMC motor converted for dirt track racing.

Jack drivers who arrived in Jacksonville late Friday night checked the local fairgrounds track and pronounced it one of the top speed alleys in the middle west.

Pirates Clip Bruins 6-5 In 13 Innings

Pittsburgh, May 23—(P)—Jack Merson's double, coming after Gus Bell's double with one out in the 13th gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-5 win over the Chicago Cubs tonight. A slim crowd of 8,496 watched the National league cellar dwellers win their first game in their last nine starts. The win was credited to reliever pitcher Ted Wilks.

Tigers Send White Sox To Third Successive Loss

Chicago, May 22—(P)—The tail-end Detroit Tigers tonight belted 14 hits off Saul Rogovin and his eighth inning successor Lou Kretlow to defeat the Chicago White Sox 9 to 2 before 16,524 and skid them into their third successive loss.

Tiger shortstop Johnny Ligon, going into the game with a lowly batting average of .217, drove in five runs to equal his total for 27 games preceding tonight's one-sided conflict.

Reds-Phils In Player Deal

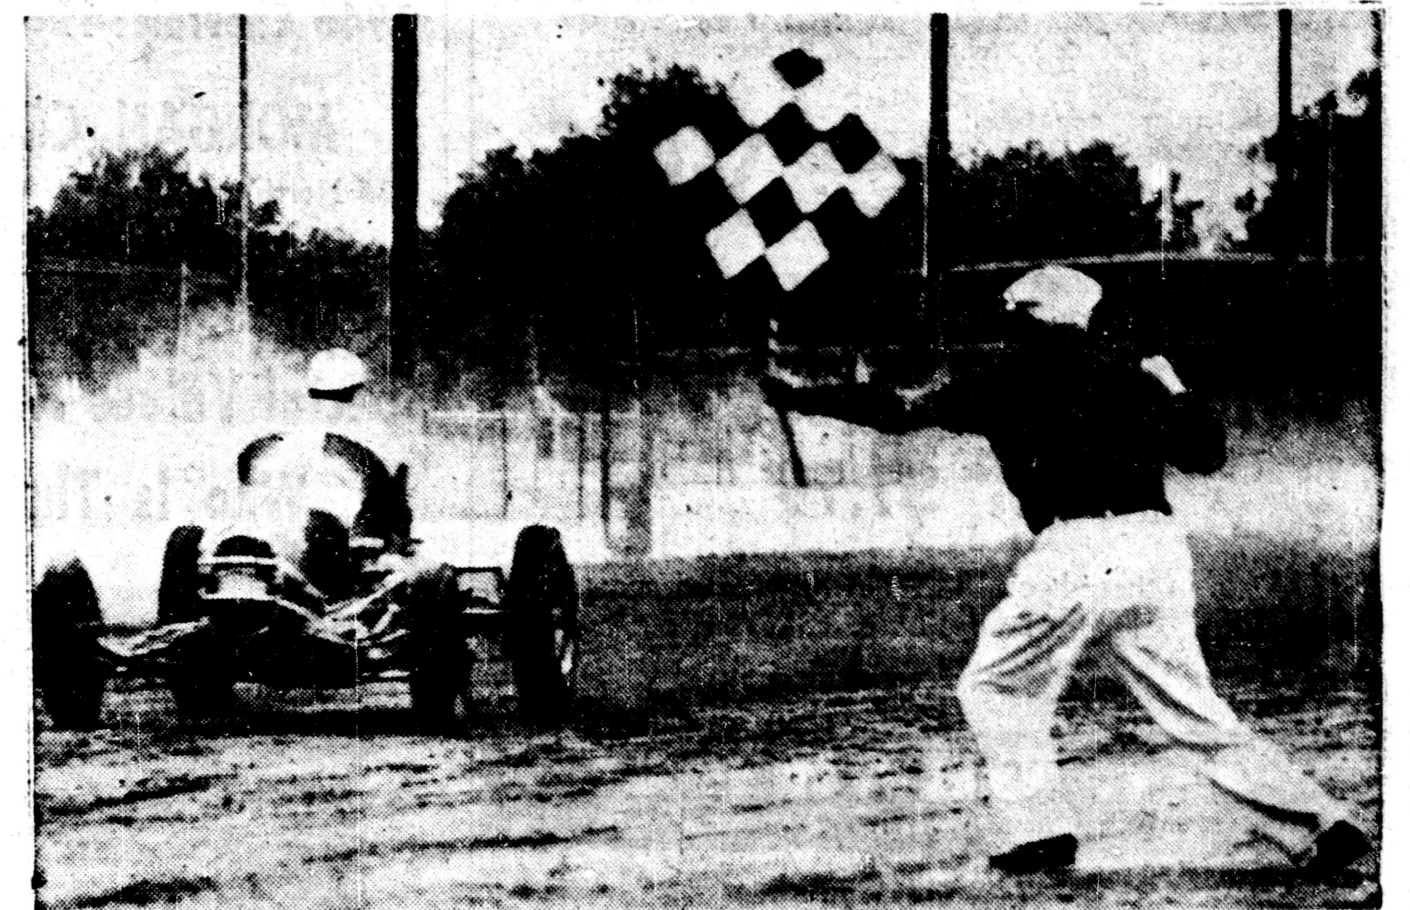

Cincinnati, May 23—(P)—The Cincinnati Reds today traded outfielder Johnny Wyrostek and pitcher Kent Peterson to the Philadelphia National league club for pitcher Bubba Church.

Wyrostek was the Reds' only 300 hitter last year, ending a good season with a .311 average. He had played parts of five seasons with the local team. He currently is batting .236. Wyrostek is 33.

Peterson, a left hander, has been with Tulsa in the Texas league. He was recalled in order that the deal could be completed. Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati team, said.

Church, 26 years old, won 15 games and lost 11 for the Phils last season. It was understood to have been a straight players deal.

SWEENEY FLAGS HOME A WINNER

The nation's most famous throttle-stompers with powerful Offenhauser motors under the hoods of expensive racing creations is expected to thrill an overflow crowd at the revamped Morgan County Fair Grounds tomorrow afternoon. A field of over 18 of the most noted cars and drivers will line up for qualifying time trials at 1:30. The first of six races will get the green flag one hour later.

Sonny Gross-Earl Setser Split Stock Car Feature

Three Rains Fail To Halt Special Program

The ill-tempered weatherman once again tried to halt the stock car racing program at Morgan county fairgrounds last night. But where he had been successful two previous Fridays, the old boy failed this time and the program was completed in spite of three showers.

Last night's rain succeeded only in wetting down the track for the speedy stocks. It didn't keep over 2,500 fans from attending the first stock car race meet here in three weeks and the second of the season.

Quincy's Sonny Gross, leading driver in the association, and Earl Setser, who drives a Jacksonville car, shared the split prize in the two 20-lap feature races which highlighted the program.

Setser won the first 20-lapper when Gross was hooked up in another car's bumper. Then Sonny came through to win the second half of the feature, finishing not more than 15 feet ahead of the heavy-footed Macomb driver.

Fans were afforded more than their share of thrills by the prize-hungry drivers.

Bob Southwell crashed his red J7 into the protective posts placed around the judges stand during one of the preliminary races, causing officials to scatter like a flushed covey of quail.

Another car sheered off a couple of poles on the north turn and still another was headed for the grandstand when it was brought up short by the heavy fence.

Don Lipcaman and Carl Coe were Jacksonville's leading drivers. The local men won the second and third heat races. Bruce Wolke was second behind Setser in the 10th lapper and placed second in a semi-final. Herb Glancy and Sonny Roach of Jacksonville gained seconds in other preliminary races.

The Summary:
25-lap—Herb Jennings, Timewell; Boyd Dacon, Palmyra; Carl Coe, Jacksonville; Don Lipcaman, Jacksonville; Dick Ertel, Quincy.

First heat—Ed Frees, Quincy; Earl Setser, Macomb; Sonny Gross, Quincy; Wayne Airing, Jacksonville.

Second heat—Don Lipcaman, Jacksonville; Don Hay, Beardstown; Russ Gross, Quincy; Dick Vance, Palmyra.

Third heat—Carl Coe, Jacksonville; Herb Glancy, Jacksonville; Bob Adams, Pittsfield; Ray Miller, Jacksonville.

First semi-final—Bill Kendrick, Mendon; Bruce Wolke, Jacksonville; Russ Cole, Jacksonville; Leo Maddox, Ashland; Boyd Dacon, Palmyra.

Second semi-final—Herb Jennings, Timewell; Sonny Roach, Jacksonville; Bill Macomlsen, Mt. Sterling; Bill Coleman, Hannibal.

First 20-lap—Earl Setser, Macomb; Bruce Wolke, Jacksonville; Russ Gross, Quincy; Ed Frees, Quincy; Russ Gross, Quincy; Dick Vance, Palmyra; Don Lipcaman, Jacksonville; Wayne Airing, Jacksonville; Russ Cole, Jacksonville.

BASE-STEALER PEPPER MARTIN GETS RELIGION
New York—(NEA)—Casey Stengel expressed surprise when told that Pepper Martin, managing Miami Beach, was using daily prayer before his Florida. International League games.

"So Pepper's gettin' religion," said the Yankee pilot. "Maybe he'll give back all them bases he stole."

'Hot-Rod' Rodriguez Is White Sox Find

By Jerry Liska
Chicago, May 23—(P)—A guy with a name like Antonio Hector Rodriguez needs a snappy nickname.

And Chicago White Sox fans are giving this amazing, little Cuban negro third sacker a good one: "Hot-Rod."

The 31-year-old Rodriguez, whose English consists of "I Got It," has been a bell-ringing find for Senor Paul Richards, the deep-thinking Texan who keeps Hacienda for the Pale Hose.

Hot-Rod Rodriguez could roar to rookie-of-the-year laurels in a cloud of his third base smoke if he keeps up his present pace.

After 31 games, he is second in White Sox batting with hulking Eddie Robinson with .317 and plays his position with big league poise that far belies the fact this is only his second season in professional ball.

A cat-quick 5-foot, 8-inch, 165-pounder, Rodriguez last season won international league rookie-of-the-year honors at Montreal, batting .302, driving across 95 runs and stealing 26 bases.

Time after time, Rodriguez has cut to this left in front of another White Sox Latin star, shortstop Chico Carrasquel, who is regarded something of a sizzling fielder himself, and made brilliant plays on slow bouncers.

Little Hector has amazed veteran baseball writers with the speed and power with which he rifles the ball on the long third-to-first throw.

A right-handed batter, Rodriguez meets the ball well, but there is more accuracy than distance in his swats. Of his 34 hits in 108 trips, 31 are singles and the other three doubles.

Still he has 14 RBIs, compared with 18 for Robinson, who has blasted four homers and seven two-baggers.

The steal sign seems to be off for the White Sox this season, yet in three attempts, Rodriguez had made it twice.

Prior to last year, Hector's baseball career was a glorified pan-American tour. He started out as a Cuban semi-pro in 1942. In 1943 he was with the New York Cubans of the Negro American league. In 1944, he was with Mexico City, switching to Tampico for the next four summers. In 1949 and 1950, he performed with the Maracaibo team of Venezuela.

Every winter, Rodriguez plays in the Cuban league.

Rodriguez is an easy man to talk with—in Spanish. Otherwise, it becomes quite a linguistic project, with Carrasquel, outfielder Minnie Minoso, infielder Willie Miranda and pitcher Luis Aloma serving as interpreters, in that order, or simultaneously.

Minnesota Trims Illini Nine 5-1

Champaign, Ill., May 23—(P)—Paul Giel scattered eight hits in winning his fifth straight victory without defeat to lead Minnesota to a 5-1 Big Ten baseball decision over Illinois today.

The loss dropped the Illini out of the lead to second place with a 9-4 record for .592. Michigan, whose game at Northwestern was cancelled by rain, moved to the top with 7-3 for .700.

Minnesota's winning run in the sixth was produced when Bob Thompson led off with a double, John Walfrid walked and Frank Larsen hit into a double play with Thompson taking third. Gene Elder singled Thompson home.

Johnny Davis topped Illinois' eight-hit attack off Giel by collecting five singles in five trips. Minnesota 010 001 030—5 6 3
Illinois 001 000 000—1 8 3
Giel and Seiger; Ahrens and Prazier.

Garcia Hurls 6-3 Win In St. Louis
St. Louis, May 23—(P)—Extra-base hitting, including Al Rosen's ninth home run of the season, backed up Mike Garcia's four-hit pitching as the Cleveland Indians took a 6 to 3 decision from the St. Louis Browns tonight. Ned Garver, the Browns' ace of last year, suffered his fourth setback this year.

After allowing just two hits in seven innings Garcia tied in the eighth.

Tommy Wright singled and pinch-batter Earl Rapp doubled before Dick Kryhoski grounded out, scoring Wright with the first St. Louis tally. Garcia walked the next three batters, forcing in a run and leaving the sacks loaded. Lemon then turned in a perfect relief job.

By Innings:
Cleveland 000 201 030—6 8 0
St. Louis 000 000 030—3 4 1
Garcia, Lemon (8) and Tebbetts; Garver, Madison (9) and Courtney.

Grain Prices Back Down Before Close

Chicago, May 24.—(P)—A mid-day advance in grain prices on the Board of Trade ran into heavy selling today and prices backed down before the close.

Dealings were active and price swings became quite wide, particularly in soybeans. Beans had gains extending to around 5 cents at one time. In the subsequent sell-off, beans managed to hold small gains, but corn and oats fell under the previous close.

Brokers were inclined to attribute the sell-off to profit-taking by short-term traders. The early advance was led by soybeans, partly based on the pessimistic Korean news. Wheat went ahead on exports to West Germany and lack of sufficient moisture in the Northwest.

Preliminary estimated receipts of grain in carlots: wheat 5, corn 114, oats 23; rye none, barley 11 and soybeans 52.

Wheat closed 11-1/2 lower, July $2.34-$2.34, corn 1-1/2 lower, July $1.84-$1.84, oats 1/2 to 1 cents lower, July 76-1/2, rye 1/2 lower to 1 higher, July $2.00, soybeans 1/2 lower to 1 1/2 higher, July $2.99-$2.98, and lard unchanged to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.17.

James got his commanding officer's permission to marry — and along with it orders to the states. Then they found James couldn't marry while listed as a casual. Finally both were returned to America and the marriage was performed here. But they're going to be split up again. James plans to be on the American swimming team when it leaves for the Olympics in August.

HOLDUP ATTEMPT BACKFIRES

Centralia, Ill. —(P)—A man walked into a rural night club at 4 a. m., flourished a gun and told some 30 persons: "This is a stickup. Line up against the wall with your hands in the air." One patron refused his order to hand him the money from the cash register. Centralia police said that no one else obeyed the man either. The whole thing made the would-be holdup man so nervous he turned and ran out the door.

Junior Square Dance Club—A Lot Of Fun

By Cecil Tendick
My grand-uncle said that next to a broom or a pitchfork the American square dance was the best possible exercise for young people.

"It's even better than swimming," he said.

"Myself, I'm as graceful as a one-handed wheelbarrow, but I've traveled the world over and have seen all the native dances. None of them have the lift and verve of the American square dance."

Maybe so and maybe no, but a visit to the basement parlors of the Congregational church, come some Thursday night, will stimulate most anyone. Young boys and girls of Jacksonville are learning the rhythm and beat of the square dance. They declare "we're not very good." But they willingly tackle some of the hardest figures in the book—and they're doing very well.

The club started early this year when a group of Girl Scouts sought to win merit badges for dancing. The requirements included square dancing. They looked around, and found Wayne C. Woolridge. He admits he doesn't know too much about square dancing, but he learned something about it in his younger days on Saturday nights at Jim McDonald's barn south of Hardin, on the Brunsells road in Calhoun county.

After the Girl Scouts got their merit pins, they wanted to dance some more. So the Junior Square Dance club was formed last February. The dues are 20¢ per meeting, which takes care of the refreshments and a record or two a week. If Woolridge digs down in his pocket to make up the difference.

He's not complaining. "I've had a lot of fun this year. Maybe I'm teaching them something about square dancing, but these kids are teaching me plenty."

So far the club—21 boys and 23 girls—has learned 15 different dances. Although they don't dance them in the professional manner, they're taking on such intricate numbers as "Catch All Eight," "Arizona Double Star," and "Wagon Wheel."

During the summer the group plans to dance outdoors on meeting nights—Thursdays. That will be on neighborhood concrete drives and the pavilions of Nichols Park.

They look mighty good right now. I want to see them again.

Louis Weber, Once Local Man, Found Dead At Springfield

Louis S. Weber, a Jacksonville resident for many years, was found dead Friday noon at his home at Springfield.

He left this city about 25 years ago. For a number of years before that he was associated with his father, Herman Weber, in the grocery business on East State street.

He attended local schools. He was a member of Central Christian church here and belonged to the local United Commercial Travelers and the Springfield Elks lodge.

At the time of his death he was employed at Buck's Hat shop at Springfield and had worked there a number of years.

Surviving brothers and sisters are Carl H. and J. Myers Weber of Springfield and Harry A. Weber, Mrs. Leonard P. Wood and Miss Dorothy Weber of Indianapolis.

That city is also the home of a nephew and a niece of the decedent, Allen Weber and Miss Phyllis Wood.

Because of the suddenness of Weber's death a coroner's inquest will be conducted at Springfield.

Burial will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Army Gives Dodd, Colson Demotion

Washington, May 23.—(P)—The army today "broke" the two brigadier generals involved in the Koje prisoner revolt fiasco in Korea. It reduced them to the rank of colonel, and ordered a formal reprimand for their immediate superior.

Demoted were: 1. Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, the Koje commandant who was seized and held for several days by the Red POW's until their "ransom" demands were met.

2. Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson, the man who agreed to the prisoners' terms for releasing Dodd.

In addition, the army ordered an "administration reprimand" for Brig. Gen. Paul F. Yount, commander of the army base section at Pusan which has jurisdiction over the Koje island prison camp.

Although mild sounding, a reprimand goes down in the army's book as a black mark against the offender and makes it harder for him to gain promotion.

Coincidence with the crackdown announcement, the army imposed a virtual blackout on further disclosures about the Koje episode and has touched off congressional demands for a full-dress investigation.

Senate and House members alike have said many elements of the case are completely baffling and still unexplained.

An army spokesman told newsmen at the Pentagon that today's announcement was all the army expected to make public relating to the official investigation and recommendations received from Gen. Mark W. Clark, the new Far East commander in chief.

The spokesman said Clark's report was classified—secret or confidential—and probably contained "considerable security information."

The report, described as "very lengthy," reached Washington in the early hours this morning via special courier flown from Japan.

IAA President Urges Price Controls Death

Chicago — Charles B. Shuman, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, has charged the office of price stabilization with the responsibility for the current potato shortage.

"The present shortage of potatoes in retail stores is a direct result of the interference of OPS price controls with production and marketing," Shuman said.

"Price ceilings on potatoes as to discourage farmers from leveling as to the early market. The situation was further aggravated by black markets which go hand in hand with price controls. A few short months ago, the price of potatoes was supported by the government at unrealistically high levels. The result was overproduction with resultant loss to the government and the destruction of thousands of bushels of surplus potatoes."

"Congress discontinued the price support program for potatoes then, but authorized the extension of OPS price and wage controls. We now have the rather ridiculous situation of price ceilings being imposed at such a level as to discourage the production of potatoes and thus remove normal supplies of this essential food from the grocery store counter."

"By now it should be obvious to everyone that government price fixing will not work. We have written to all of the county Farm Bureau leaders and county Farm Bureau organizations in Illinois asking them to join in a determined effort to eliminate price and wage controls from the Defense Production Act which expires on June 30."

"In our opinion, this is the only way to avoid shortages and black markets similar to the present situation with potatoes. The prices of practically all food commodities are now well below the ceiling levels. There will never be a better time to abolish price and wage controls. They have proven to be a failure and a delusion."

Two local men arrived in States from Korean zone.

Ceremonies scheduled to be held at the pier included music by an 80 piece Marine band, drum majorettes, and coffee, milk and doughnuts provided by the Red Cross. Brig. Gen. William J. Whaling, himself a veteran of the Korean conflict, was to give the official welcome.
